

Evening Spiritual Communion

I have come to spend a few moments with You, O Yeshua, and in spirit I prostrate myself in the dust before Your Holy Tabernacle to adore You, my Lord and my God, in deepest humility.

Once more a day has come to its close, dear Yeshua, another day which brings me nearer to the grave and my beloved heavenly home. Once more, O Yeshua, my heart longs for You, the true Bread of Life, which contains all sweetness and satisfaction for my heart.

Yeshua, mercifully grant me pardon for my faults and ingratitude of this day, and come to me to refresh my poor heart which longs for You. As the heart pants for the waters, as the parched earth longs for the dew of heaven, even so does my poor heart long for Your Presence, O Holy Living Fountain of Water. I love You, Yeshua, I hope in You and out of love for You I regret sincerely all my sins.

May Your peace and Your blessing be upon me now and always and for all eternity. Amen.
